

COURTHOUSE CLEANUP is the order of the day for spring, as this workman in a lift stand sprays the courthouse exterior with a powerful stream of water and cleanser. The cleaning will be followed by mortar repairs and a final silicone coating for protection.

With F.M.L.

This happens to be No. 1 of Volume 115 of your Herald.

The Herald is one of perhaps the five oldest newspapers in Texas, dating from the Cameron Centinel one year prior to the Civil War.

It has seen Cameron grow from a cross-roads community to cotton center to a modern community now emerging in the mix of agri-business and industry. It serves an area approximating the break from East to West Texas, from North to South Texas. The soils and the variation of peoples document this.

The numbered series of this column started with No. 98, signifying the volume of the publication. So it changes every year at this time. NOW is the companion column appearing in the Monday edition, which began in October, 1969, when your Herald went semi-weekly.

The Herald for a few years in the 1940s and early 1950s was known as a "midget daily," printed on a single sheet or a jobpress, distributed free through local merchants. It was later a sub-tabloid publication, but went out of print because of costs in the mid-50s, maintaining only the Thursday edition.

It has since gone through all the technical changes of the 1970s and expanded circulation into communities within five counties of the Milam Region.

Herald news department now has four editors and writers, aided by about 10 area correspondents, at least a dozen columnists. Herald art and layout staff includes an artist and several layout experts.

Production is in the hands of skilled technical personnel whose jobs did not exist a few years ago.

But these skills serve more than the next edition. They serve the Herald's future, which its founder 115 years ago would not have dreamed of.

In this sense, it is brand new. The area it serves is one of the largest served by an American non-daily, roughly 1 1/2 percent of the Texas landmass, about 60 thousand people.

So the year 115 is not so much a milestone as a pleasant reminder that things with a long memory can renew and grow from experience, rather than fade.

Past a first century and deep into a second, your Herald welcomes a forward view that is so apparent in Cameron and the area around Milam County.

Upon our 115th, that's a capsule story behind it.

Speaker, Award To Highlight Chamber Banquet

An address by Oklahoma Lt. Gov. George Nigh and presentation of the McCullin Civic Award will highlight the Cameron Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet set for Thursday (tonight).

The banquet will start at 7:30 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Among out of town guests expected at the banquet will be State Sen. William N. Patman and his assistant, Joe Bartosh; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Balsienz, construction engineer with the Texas Highway Department; Hill Stroup, assistant Sergeant of Arms, State Senate; and officials from Texas Power and Light Co., Lone Star Gas Company, and the Santa Fe Railway Company.

Other guests will include Rep. and Mrs. Dan Kubiak, David Rivers, regional editor of the Temple Telegram; Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Caffey, county commissioner; and Mr. and Mrs. John Banta, Waco Tribune-Herald.

Also expected are several businessmen from Ponca City, Okla., and businessmen from the Waco area.

New officers of the chamber will take office at this time.

Ed Laywell, 1972 recipient of the McCullin Civic Award, will present the loving cup to the 1973 winner, chosen by secret ballot by representatives of local civic clubs.

Demonstration work to consumer information and services. Where the county agent once limited his work to crops and cattle the extension agent now advises on home gardening, landscaping and insect control.

Milam County has a program comparable to surrounding counties -- Williamson County has two extension agents presently and has been approved for two more this year; Bell County, where there is no home demonstration program, has only one agent.

Judge Harden said the county was not legally committed to provide office space for the extension service, however commissioners have set a precedent of cooperating with the program in the past.

License Plates To Change

This will be the last year for the one-year license plate, according to an announcement from the Texas Highway Department.

Starting next year, the plates will serve a five-year period, with motorists purchasing a 1 by 2 inch adhesive-type sticker that will be placed on the upper left corner of the plate. In 1977 the sticker will be stuck to the upper right hand corner, then alternated the following years.

Motorists are reminded that Monday April 1 is the last day for registering Texas motor vehicles, according to R. W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department.

Townsley noted that owners of motor vehicles must display 1974 license plates by 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, April 2, to avoid penalty.

Townsley said the new five-year plate will feature an entirely new design, including the use of vowels for the first time.

Grand Jury Indicts 12 Trustees Elect Teachers, New Superintendent

Cameron school trustees voted to hire a new superintendent and elect school personnel for the 1974-75 school year at a regular meeting Monday night.

New superintendent will be Buddy Dulin of Albany, who will serve on a three-year contract. He will begin his term on July 1.

Trustees also appointed a board of equalization to include holdover members George Dodd and Clarence Colburn, and new member Bob Wells.

In other business, trustees:

- Heard a report from Supt. D. R. Dodson on progress of the new field house now under construction;

- Also from Dodson a request that Yoe High School receive a silicone treatment on exterior stone-work;

- Adopted textbooks as recommended by the textbook committee;

- Changed school board meeting time to 8 p.m. for the next meeting.

- Heard a representative of Young Homemakers Club ask for cooperation from the school in supplying playground equipment for Ben Milam children and kindergarten;

- Heard a mother express concern for the lack of a fire escape at Ada Henderson School. Dodson explained that the school has a fire escape but so far has been unable to get anyone to install it. He noted that Ada Henderson has been classed as a fire proof building.

- Authorized Dodson to get a bid from Frank Matula for construction of a new restroom for Yoe Field;

- And heard trustee Mrs. Betsy Brown ask trustees to look into the possibility of having carpenter courses for high school students.

Dodson said such vocational courses as auto mechanics, business courses etc. are very expensive and said the school had no way of offering courses such as those offered by Connally Tech at Waco, which is within a 50-mile radius of the schools.

Board President Calvin Cobb appointed a committee of John Henderson, Mrs. Brown, Dana Kestenbaum, Jack Chubb and himself to look into building trade and auto mechanics courses for the school.

Personnel hired for the new school year includes:

And, Fred T. Johns, Mary Belle Batte, Emma McDermott, Henriem

Trustees Hire Superintendent From Albany

Buddy Dulin, of Albany, new superintendent hired by Cameron school trustees, will come to Cameron with 21 years experience in the Albany school system.

Dulin, 42, has been superintendent at Albany for seven years, taught school at Albany, served as coach for 12 years, and was elementary and junior high principal for two years before becoming superintendent.

He graduated from Colorado City, Texas, high school and received his Masters and BA degrees from McMurray College. He also participated in a 60-hour administrators program at Abilene Christian College.

FBI Joins Investigation Of $12,000 Hearne Check

Robertson County District Atty. Bryan Russ confirmed that the FBI has been called in and is investigating the controversial $12,000 check in Hearne city funds which was reportedly paid to a non-existent construction firm.

The Hearne City Council met Monday night, but in spite of a large crowd of interested citizens, took care of a very short agenda and refused to comment on the matter of the check.

The FBI was asked to investigate the matter upon request by Cong. W. R. Poage, whose name was linked to the affair by Hearne Mayor Jake Abrams. Abrams has since apologized to Poage by telegram and letter, for linking the check to Poage's campaign fund.

Russ was already investigating a reported discrepancy of $10,683 in Hearne city funds when the matter of the $12,000 check came up. He is continuing his investigation of both the discrepancy and the $12,000 check. He said he will assist the FBI in any way if asked.

Russ said that when he completed his investigation he will determine from evidence within his jurisdiction whether to place the matter before a Robertson County grand jury. Agents assigned to the FBI office

Poage Draws Opponent For 11th District

A Brownwood attorney has filed with the State Republican Party as a candidate for U. S. Representative of the 11th Congressional District.

This means that incumbent Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage will have an opponent this year for probably the first time in more than a decade.

Don Clements, 38, filed for the post now held by Poage. Poage will have one Democratic opponent, Connie Lawson of Taylor, in the May Democratic primary elections.

There will be a third candidate in the November general election, Laurel N. Dunn of Waco, if Dunn can file by a petition containing names of 3 percent of the voters in the 11th district by July 1.

Dunn has filed with the secretary of state as an independent candidate.

A Milam County grand jury returned 14 true bills of indictment against 12 persons when it met Tuesday. Another sealed indictment was returned.

Indictments included: Edward (Sugar Ray) Williams, burglary January 4, 1974.

Lonnie Brown, forgery December 28, 1973.

Lonceree McGowan, forgery March 1, 1974.

James Darwin Wright, burglary June 16, 1973.

Mike Favinger, felony theft August 30, 1973.

Charles James Miller, possession of a controlled substance January 4, 1974.

Ken Kinsey, felony theft December 4, 1973.

Ken Kinsey, theft December 19, 1973.

James Howard Williams, forgery and passing November 30, 1973.

Ricardo Ysassi, aggravated robbery with serious bodily injury January 19, 1974, two counts.

Doris Bryant Blue, assault with intent to murder August 9, 1973.

Oliver Douglas Leystra, felony theft September 6, 1973.

Larry Jackson, felony theft April 15, 1973.

Members of the grand jury included: Collier Perry, M. C. Duncum, O. T. Bullock, E. L. Wied, Frank Jahn, Mrs. Geneva Paceley, Eddie Wilkerson, J. L. Lamkin, J. R. Young, W. L. Ditto, Melvin Hurt, and Eugene Fox.

FBI Joins Investigation Of $12,000 Hearne Check

in Waco received orders from regional offices in San Antonio March 8 to launch a complete investigation into the matter.

Conducting the investigation possibly with the aid of FBI agents in Bryan, will be Fred Lee, agent-in-charge of the Waco office, and Richard T. Jesinger.

Jesinger said the thrust of the investigation will focus on locating the $12,000 check and finding out where it went.

Hearne City Councilman Tommy Mayfield, who allegedly deposited the check in a Bryan bank after it was issued June 26, 1971, said in a statement March 7 the check was to help secure a $2 million grant for urban development.

Commissioners

Nix Joining

Bell County Group

A move by the Bell County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center to include Milam County in its organization was squashed by county commissioners at a meeting Monday.

The Bell County organization wants to take in surrounding counties in order to become a regional center, and it would probably mean taking over the county's Mental Health Outreach Center. Commissioners agreed that they could see no advantage to joining the organization.

Commissioners moved to adopt a resolution enabling the county to join co-operative arrangements for a summer manpower program, which is sponsored by the Central Texas Council of Governments. The council will provide administrative aid for the program which helps low-income students to earn money during the summer.

Supper To Benefit Day Care Center

A barbecue supper will be held Saturday, March 16 at the Methodist Fellowship Hall from 3 until 7 p.m. All proceeds will benefit the Cameron Day Care Center.

Tickets will be $2 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12.

It is hoped that visitors in town for the Cameron Relays will take advantage of the affair and enjoy a supper of barbecue beef, potato salad, beans, and pickles plus a beverage.

County Views Extension Expenses

County Commissioners are faced with additional expense to operate the County Agricultural Extension office and are taking a look at needs for the office in space and personnel.

The extension service has been offered rent free since the present post office opened, however a new ruling by the General Accounting Office will require the county to pay $4,388.10 annually for the base-line office space beginning July 1. Texas Extension Service requested that the local office be moved to the courthouse, however County Judge O. B. Harden said office space is not available for the five agents and clerical personnel.

Commissioners in recent years have budgeted over $20,000 a year to the extension office, less than one-third of the cost of the service. Texas Extension Service, through federal funding, pays more than two-thirds of the salaries and expenses.

Judge Harden said the court has asked the Milam County Farm Bureau to study needs of the extension service and make a recommendation. In question in addition to office space for the extension service is the number of agents and scope of their work.

Since the beginning of extension work in Milam County when local businessmen anxious to combat the boll weevil and improve farming methods subscribed to pay half the salary of a county agent, the work has expanded to include five profession agents. The increase has been gradual. In 1912 the first home demonstration agent was added to the staff and later an extension office for a negro county agent and home demonstration agent opened in Cameron. In 1965 these offices were combined and about this time an assistant county agent was designated to work principally with 4-H projects.

Judge Harden said one question that had come up was duplication in the agriculture oriented programs available.

Extension Service personnel point out that their work has changed in recent years to include both rural and urban population. A new direction has been taken from canning and housekeeping of the early Home

Public Interest...Everywhere...

This is not Hearne. But if it were, and one of the local city Councilmen knew where a check for $12,000 of public money went, but "was not at liberty to divulge..." as one Hearne official has been quoted, there would be a continuous public uproar of the first order.

In fact, a grand jury would be waiting to examine the question which the press is ferreting out, bit by bit. A grand jury can be held to hear secret testimony to decide what is and what isn't.

Such a statement is at least in conflict with a councilman's oath even if the money was somehow to loosen $2 million urban renewal funding for public improvement.

The home rule charter of Hearne, all its financial experience with any service or business or bonding firm, as well as the federal and state government, are jeopardized by so quixotic an attitude about public funds.

The City of Hearne in effect draws its powers for self-government from the state, as all towns do over the population of 5,000. The legal as well as ethical status of the City of Hearne is jeopardized. Such things as bond credit ratings are determined by how a city's finances are handled.

Already looking for a bookkeeping discrepancy, the City of Hearne through its council owes its residents an explanation of who is doing what with these funds.

It is simply not a city council's role to prime public projects with public money. Or private money. This puts small city government on trial.

Cameron is fortunate not to have had this experience. But it is an example of what can happen when public finance is complex among several agencies of government and why public interest should be maintained in how things are going.

Everywhere.

We are confident Robertson County officials and appropriate federal authorities will assist Hearne residents in establishing the facts.

State Political Candidates Promise Plenty Of Action

Statewide political candidates are on the campaign trail in earnest, and plenty of action is expected. The AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education met here this week to choose up sides in the major statewide races.

Both Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Mrs. Frances "Sissy" Farenthold began their travels, with Mrs. Farenthold challenging quality of the Governor's leadership and his "accessibility."

Republicans lost a candidate, when former State Sen. Henry Grover of Houston in a surprise move withdrew from the governor's race. He said he could not raise money for a campaign, and "GOP high-ups don't want to win anyway."

Main action below the governor's race is expected in the three-way Democratic contest for comptroller.

Bob Bullock of Austin and Hugh Edburg, a former top aide in the comptroller's office, are logging most of the action. Buddy F. Kirk of Houston, another former comptroller's staff member, is also waging an active campaign to succeed retiring Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Treasurer Jesse James has young Houston lawyer Donald B. Ya-brough for a Democratic opponent.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White is opposed by Herbert A. (Peanut) Schroeder in the Democratic primary.

Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace has opposition from C.A. Kelly of San Antonio.

Atty. Gen. John Hill, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Railroad Commissioner Jim Langdon have no Democratic opponents, but they're doing some campaigning, anyway, in case their Republican challengers get tough in the fall.

FINANCES REVEALED - New required financial reports by state candidates provided some of the more-interesting conversational tidbits at the state capital during the last week.

Governor Briscoe, for example, reported he owns about 332,000 acres of South Texas ranch and farm lands and has vast banking and investment interests, although he did not place a dollar value on his holdings.

Mrs. Farenthold placed her family net worth at $314,684 assets (including $200,000 worth of jewels) at $495,771.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby listed assets of $3.9 million, and a net worth of $599,483.

Atty. Gen. John Hill reported assets of $3.1 million and a net worth in excess of $2.9 million.

CONVENTION LIVENS - After a dreary, extended wrangle over educational provisions, the Constitutional Convention finally agreed on the school-college article and went on to pound out promptly voter qualifications and elections provisions.

Delegates agreed to restore voting privileges automatically to ex-prisoners. They voted to leave it up to the legislature whether to scrap the ancient requirement of signing paper ballot stubs.

Another controversial provision passed would require voters in bond elections affecting property taxes to be property owners.

MORE GAS ON WAY - Texas will get 119.7 million gallons more gasoline in March than in February.

The Federal Energy Office said Texas' March supply will be 657.8 million gallons.

Federal Energy Administrator William Simon announced adjustments.

AG OPINIONS - Attorney General Hill held a state employee cannot be fired merely because she is pregnant.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The Department of Public Welfare may refuse a client's request for a copy of his complete file only where information is excepted from the open records law and has not been used concurrently in determination of the person's rights.

Whether or not tips are part of the sales price of taxable food and drink depends on whether the employer derives a benefit from their collection.

The Water Development Board need not get a permit from the Antiquities Committee before archaeological resources on public lands can be tampered with. But the Board has responsibility to assist the Committee in locating, protecting and preserving such resources. Its funds can be used to study antiquities to be affected by a reservoir, but it may not engage in salvaging operations.

Boards of regents cannot meet in closed sessions to consider granting honorary degrees, unless the honoree is also being considered for appointment or employment.

If a person sells a mobile home that does not meet new code requirements, the Bureau of Labor Statistics can get an injunction and fine the seller. (A variety of other questions on mobile home regulations were answered by Hill).

The comptroller of public accounts has authority to prescribe forms to be used by the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in obtaining reimbursement for costs of services and supplies furnished by its central services facilities.

SPEEDERS BEWARE - Department of Public Safety troopers have been instructed to intensify enforcement of speed laws.

DPS Chief Wilson E. Speir ordered the effort after re-

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I was looking through a copy of a new magazine the other day and ran across an article on the plight of a young couple in these inflationary times.

They got married in 1968, and shortly thereafter when the man's salary reached $16,000 a year they bought by the small down-payment route a 4-bedroom house, an air-conditioned Pontiac Le Mans, and an expensive pedigree dog. Probably paid cash for the dog, but I'm not sure, the article didn't say. They went bowling five nights a week and on weekends went to movies and dined out at a famous lobster place.

Lately though due to cutbacks in production the man's salary has dropped to $14,000 a year and that couple with inflation has just about ruined them. They've sold the big house and moved to a smaller one, sold the big car and bought a used Volkswagen, and they gave the dog away. The man blames the government for his plight, adding, "I've lost faith in everything the government says."

Understand, I'm in favor of blaming the government for everything you can, but I was just thinking, times have changed. It used to be a big one, but nowadays they start out with a big one and frequently work down to a small one. Their economic philosophy seems to be: bowl now and bawl later.

Speaking of young people, a neighbor has asked me what I think of those college kids streaking. I am unimpressed. I mean, the kids apparently think they're doing something original and daring, but shucks, there are tribes in Australia and Africa that have been running unclothed through a clearin for thousands of years without causing a single giggle.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Cruelty Behind Bars

Block Thirteen in a certain state prison was known as the "hell hole." Inmates were kept—sometimes for years—in dark, 6' x 9' cells. Once a day they were allowed outside for 15 minutes, during which time they had to bathe, wash their clothes, and exercise.

But when these conditions were called to the attention of a federal judge, he ordered changes made at once. He said the situation was a form of "cruel and unusual punishment," forbidden by the United States Constitution.

Traditionally, courts have maintained a "hands-off" policy toward the administration of our prisons. They have felt that conditions behind bars were generally outside of their jurisdiction.

But in recent years, that attitude has been changing. Repeatedly, prisoners have won cases based on the "cruel and unusual" clause of the Constitution.

A broad spectrum of complaints has come under closer judicial scrutiny — corporal punishment, forced labor, restrictions on mail, restrictions on visitors, inadequate food, faulty sanitation, insufficient medical supplies or personnel.

Courts are still wary, however, of getting too deeply involved in the day-to-day problems of running a penal institution. Thus, one prisoner failed to establish "cruel and unusual" punishment merely because he had been deprived of the right to wear his civilian shoes. And in another case, a court found no constitutional problem when a prisoner's long hair was cut to standard length.

The court said: "A man in jail is not a free man. His right to wear long hair is outweighed by the interests of the state in maintaining sanitary conditions and discipline. The Eighth Amendment expresses the revulsion of civilized man against barbarous acts. The prohibition of long hair is not barbarous."

The Price Of Coal...

Coal is a source of Britain's instability and now its inflation.

Coal miners are back at work, settling a strike amid an atmosphere of proposed nationalizing Britain's 50 largest corporations.

Harold Wilson, labor leader and new minority prime minister, is lifting threats of industry nationalization, going for a moderate program to sustain his tentative position.

Britain is on about a half-week work schedule during an energy crisis, as much a shortage of coal as any other source.

The price of coal will increase anywhere from 28 to 48 percent by April 1, following wage settlements and market demand in short supply.

A relationship of increasing industrial costs, here wages, and inflation continues. It will continue to happen in this country.

Britain's shortage of coal, higher wages during a period of "catchup" will fail to alleviate its short work week. Edward Heath's conservatives, short of enough power in a coalition with liberals, is waiting for another crack at 10 Downing Street.

That is, if Wilson's proposals and staying of nationalization fail.

A lot hangs on the price of coal in Britain.

Energy Savings Sought

WASHINGTON, D.C. A national program to encourage consumers to cut energy waste and select energy efficient home appliances was announced today by the American Gas Association president, F. Donald Hart.

Hart said the program, called the Natural Energy Gas Appliance Educational Program, "emphasizes conservation of our nation's natural energy resources in two ways: by reducing energy waste and by encouraging selection of efficient appliances."

"As America passes through a period of demand-supply imbalance -- it only makes good sense to select an appliance which consumes as little as possible of our natural resources."

"For example," Hart said, "According to figures released in a report published by the Council on Environmental Quality, heating a home with gas uses about half as much of the energy found in our natural resources as does heating it with electricity. In other words we can heat two homes with gas with the same amount of primary energy it takes to heat one with electricity. The CEQ report goes on to say 'when the total system is considered... gas-fired appliances are more efficient than their electric counterparts'."

The appliance efficiency program is targeted toward the replacement market, encouraging consumers to replace old gas appliances with new gas models thereby keeping the demand on our natural energy resources at a minimum.

"An independent study by Eric Hirst at Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee, comparing the efficiencies of residential gas and electric products, shows that major gas appliances and heating equipment are more efficient than their electric counterparts."

Coyote Program In Jeopardy

By Bill McCutchen

Some 90 Milam County producers attended the educational meeting Thursday February 28th in Cameron on the Experimental Coyote Control program. It looked at that time, that producers were going to get some help on controlling the troublesome Coyote but now the program is in jeopardy.

Environmentalists it seems have won another round at least temporarily. It is my understanding that a restraining order has been issued on the Experimental Coyote Control program and the future of this program is in doubt.

It seems that some environmentalists think the Coyote is an endangered species and should be protected. The only danger to Coyotes in this area is from hunger pains due to overpopulation. They have thinned the county rabbit population almost to the point of extinction as well as other small game. Populations are high enough in some areas that they are running in packs and killing some good size calves, and of course newborn baby calves, sheep, goats, chickens, pigs, and other small farm animals are in constant jeopardy.

Farmers and ranchers are not interested in the unnecessary destruction of wild animals, but it seems only right that they have the right to protect their livelihood.

In a time that city dwellers are screaming about food costs, it seems rather ironic that they are willing to let the Coyote feast on choice beef, pork, mutton, and poultry at his pleasure.

Grain Sorghum Planting Active

Milam County farmers have been putting a lot of grain sorghum in the ground the past couple of weeks and quite a few have finished planting.

Most say that planting has seldom gone as smooth as it has thus far this year. The soil is working beautifully and very little is slowing up the planting progress.

Early planting is usually one of the most important factors in making a good crop. If this is so, Milam County farmers are on their way.

Cotton Seed Bank Would Help Growers And Mills

DALLAS

U. S. cotton growers may soon draw planting seed from a new "seed bank" in order to produce specific fiber types for the rapidly changing needs of the textile industry.

Dr. Wolf Wessling, associate director of agricultural research for Cotton Incorporated, says the seed bank can enable cotton breeders and planting seed suppliers to respond to marketplace demands in two or three years -- far faster than is now possible.

Cotton Incorporated is the research, sales and marketing company sponsored by America's cotton growers.

Wessling, a geneticist and one-time commercial cotton plant breeder, presented his seed bank proposal to public and private seed breeders and textile men at a cotton improvement conference here.

Under the present system, said Wessling, plant breeders maintain only a few pounds of cotton varieties and strains not used commercially. As a result, five to six years is normally required before cotton of any specific fiber type can move from the stockpile to the marketplace in useful quantities.

But fashions and other consumer preferences can change almost overnight, Wessling noted, and changes in textile industry demands for specific fiber properties keep pace.

Developing and delivering cotton from a totally new variety ordinarily requires ten years. Thus an imbalance between supply and demand often results. The seed bank, Wessling said, would minimize the imbalance.

As the Cotton Incorporated scientist envisions it, the first seed bank would contain as many as ten different cottons not grown commercially today. Each cotton would possess difference, distinctive fiber properties with the potential to fill future market needs. Wessling estimates that in five years seed bank stocks would grow to a level of 30 tons of acid delinted seed for each of the ten cottons.

Lots of untreated seed could be stored in Arizona for five years without any appreciable loss in germination. The lots would be maintained on a revolving inventory basis, and obsolete lots would be replaced by more advanced material of the same or new fiber types as the program continued.

The seed bank would benefit all segments of the cotton industry. At the same time, its success would require the full cooperation of all segments, Wessling said. Input from the textile industry would be needed to forecast trends and to determine fiber types that should be entered in the seed bank.

Cotton producers would be informed about the characteristics of a specific cotton, its market value, and the need quantity. Wessling added that contractual agreements between the textile industry and cotton producers, or intermediaries, would logically facilitate the supply of cotton and keep supply and demand in reasonable balance.

Wessling told the conference that the seed bank would be of great value in establishing a more flexible and profitable position for the cotton industry in both foreign and domestic markets.

A&M Sets Feedlot Seminar In June

Managing a feedlot or any other business can be a difficult job if the person in charge is not equipped with the basic tools of management and human relations. That's why Texas A&M University is offering a two-week Management Development Seminar for Commercial Livestock Feeding this summer.

The seminar is slated for June 16-28 in the J. Earl Rudder Center on the A&M Campus and will be jointly sponsored by A&M's College of Agricultural and College of Business Administration, says Dr. Lowell Schake, associate professor of animal science and coordinator of the university's graduate program in feedlot management.

Farmcast

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

Parity Creeps Up Again . . . Fuel Situation . . . Turkey Poults Hatch Increases . . . Broiler Hatchings Also On The Rise.

Farm parity as of February 15 is 95. That's up one point from January and is up 13 points from a year ago. Agriculture is five points away from being on an even financial par with the rest of the economy.

Only one category of livestock--sheep--is at or above parity. Wheat, corn, oats, rice, and grain sorghum are above effective parity levels. Cotton is still a big exception. Parity is 67.58 cents per pound, but the average price as of February 15 was 54 cents.

Hogs at $38.40 average are almost $2 under parity. Beef cattle at $43.80 are $4.70 under parity. Calves at $51.30 average are $8.30 below parity. Lambs at $39.20 are about $2 under parity. Sheep at $21.50 are $8 above parity.

Eggs average 63.9 cents per dozen, which is three cents a dozen under parity.

Wool averaged 85 cents per pound compared with $1.84 parity.

Wheat as of February 15 averaged $5.29; parity is $3.74. Grain sorghum averaged $4.63 while parity is $4.23.

Rice at $16.70 compared with parity at $11.10 per hundred pounds. Hay prices as of February 15 averaged $41.50 per ton which is $1 higher than a month ago.

The all farm products index of prices received by Texas farmers is one per cent below the previous month but 40 per cent above a year ago.

The livestock and livestock products index is down three per cent from last month but is seven per cent above February 15 of 1973.

WILL YOU get enough fuel to produce and harvest this year's crops? It depends on what you do. The first thing you should do (if you haven't already done so) is to tell your distributor how much fuel you will need this year to plant and harvest your crops.

If you have trouble during the season getting sufficient fuel, you should contact your county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office. ASCS county office has been designated as the agency for farmers to contact regarding their fuel problems for 1974. ASCS offices are to have the latest information relating to energy supplies and are to be in a position to provide you with the answers you'll need.

Agriculture does have a priority for 1974 for fuel, but it's up to you to first tell your distributor how much you will need, and you will also be required to practice fuel conservation measures.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has a booklet available for you giving you information on how to conserve energy. You can get a copy by writing Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

A 13 PER CENT increase in turkey poult hatching is noted for Texas during the recent week. Eggs placed in incubators at 483,000 are the highest reported so far this season. This set is 21 per cent above 1973 and 18 per cent more than a week ago.

Nationwide, an increase of 12 per cent is reported in hatchings. The set of eggs was two per cent above the previous week.

BROILER hatchings also show an increase. Texas hatcheries placed 3,712,000 broiler chicks, which compared to a year ago is eight per cent more. The total hatch was up six per cent from a week ago.

In the 21 leading broiler producing states, a nine per cent increase is reported. Eggs placed in incubators, which is up two per cent from 1973, is only slightly above the previous week.

Legislation Strengthens Regulations

WASHINGTON

Major reform legislation strengthening the federal regulation of the nation's $400 billion Commodity Futures trading industry today was reported by the House Committee on Agriculture, chaired by Rep. W. R. Poage.

The bill, H.R. 13113, jointly introduced by Poage and a bipartisan sponsorship, directs the first complete overhaul of the Commodity Exchange Act in more than half a century and proposes a comprehensive regulatory structure to oversee the volatile and complex futures trading industry, where contracts for future delivery of agricultural and other commodities ("futures") are traded. They are traded as a marketing device for the hedging of cash sales and purchases of wheat, corn, soybeans, cotton, other crops, timber, livestock, cocoa, sugar, metals, and even foreign currency.

Approximately 90 percent of all commodities represented as futures contracts are agricultural in origin.

The bill, reported by a record vote of 24 to 8, replaces the present regulatory arm within the Department of Agriculture (commodity Exchange Authority) with a new five-man regulatory Commodity Futures Trading Commission consisting of the Secretary of Agriculture and four public members selected on a bipartisan basis. The public members would be appointed by the President, subject to the advice and consent of the Senate. Although any of the five members including the Secretary could be nominated by the President as Chairman, the nomination as Chairman would be subject to separate confirmation by the Senate.

In comments on the Committee's action, Poage described the bill as "a considered approach toward solving the problems besetting futures markets, both immediate and long range." Among those problems, he said, are "a crisis in confidence in futures institutions and practices, and a limited breakdown in the system of self regulation."

Efficiency is a very important part of our conservation program. It's defined as getting maximum results for minimum cost. For example: using natural gas for those jobs it does best. Like heating your home, cooking, clothes drying and water heating. You not only use energy more efficiently, but also cut the cost of your utility bills and contribute to energy conservation.

Some other examples of saving energy and cutting costs are: turning down your thermostat to 68 degrees, cutting your shower time down to 5 minutes and fixing a leaky faucet. (A leaky hot water faucet wastes as much as 700 gallons of water a year plus the energy needed to heat it.)

ANOTHER GREAT VARIETY FROM ROGERS DELINTED COTTONSEED

Texas cotton growers from the Valley to the high plains are reporting favorably, their results of planting the new QUAPAW Cotton from Rogers Delinted. Such comments as, "...the cotton strips and gins good and I am increasing my planting next year." QUAPAW cotton has a medium size storm resistant boll and good seedling vigor with medium size seed. QUAPAW responds well to single row, skip row or narrow row spacing. It harvests well with strippers or spindle pickers. QUAPAW gins good and cleans up good with extra high quality fiber.

Steam Geysers Providing Power For California

By Bruce Russell

SAN FRANCISCO Reuter - California, its fuel resources slowly declining, will be helped through the fuel-short years ahead by the fact the state reposes on a vast bed of steam.

The steam which produces spectacular geysers in some of the state parks is already providing the equivalent of more than half the power needed for a city the size of San Francisco. This geothermal power is produced by the molten core of the earth forcing its way up near the surface through faults in the surface rock -- the same faults that produce California's earthquakes. The molten rock boils underground water which jets up through boreholes to turn power turbines. Geothermal energy has largely been ignored by fuel companies because the steam contains impurities which corrode pipes as well as letting off appalling hydrogen sulphide.

But when the fuel crunch hit, the oil companies leaped in with spectacularly high bids to tap geothermal resources.

The highest bidder was Shell Oil Company, which offered $1,336 an acre for land which 18 years ago fetched no more than 20 cents an acre.

The big bids were for the geysers area in a rugged canyon 90 miles northeast of San Francisco. The geysers, described as the "gate of hell" by the man who discovered it 125 years ago, was once a favorite gathering place for steam-bathing nudists.

The geysers is so far the only site producing geothermal power in the United States. Similar sites have already been developed in Mexico, Japan and New Zealand.

California's own oil production has been steadily declining in recent years and the state now imports 40 per cent of its fuel needs.

An attraction of geothermal power is its relative cheapness. Its cost is at present estimated at three-thousandths of a cent per kilowatt hour, compared with about a cent for oil-produced power.

Besides the geysers area, experiments are being made in the arid inland valleys of southern California. But this steam presents bigger problems because it contains highly corrosive impurities.

The big oil companies' eagerness to develop the geothermal fields is welcome news for Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which provides the power needs of northern California.

The company is particularly hard hit by the Arab oil embargo. It needs 42 1/2 million barrels of oil this year and at present has less than half of that.

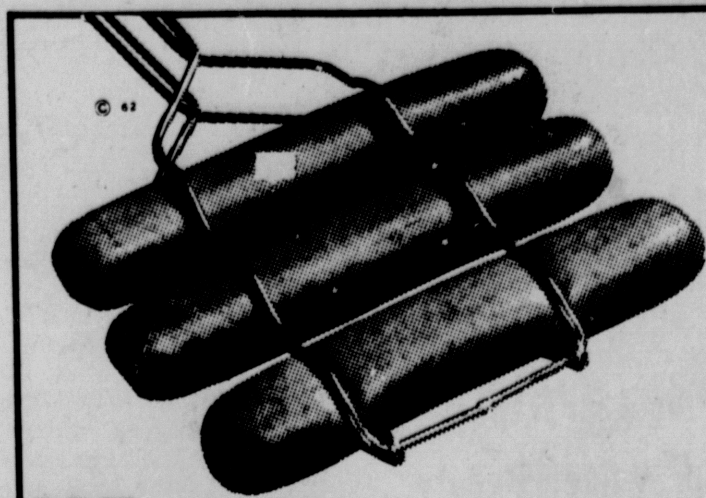

Christopher Newton, spokesman for the company, says geothermal steam cannot provide the answer to all his company's problems although it will help. "In the next few years, oil is the only solution until nuclear power plants can be put on the line," he says.

But steam is already providing the company with four per cent of its power. This is expected to rise to 10 per cent when new fields come into production a few years from now.

By 1977, there will be enough geothermal plants in production to provide the equivalent of the power needs of San Francisco.

Newton says one worrying factor is that a drop in pressure has been noted recently in the underground steam. "During the earlier days some thought the steam was in exhaustible," he says.

TWU Lists Honor Roll

Names of students at the Texas Woman's University who achieved high scholastic averages during the fall semester have been announced by Dr. Leslie R. Kreps, vice president for academic affairs.

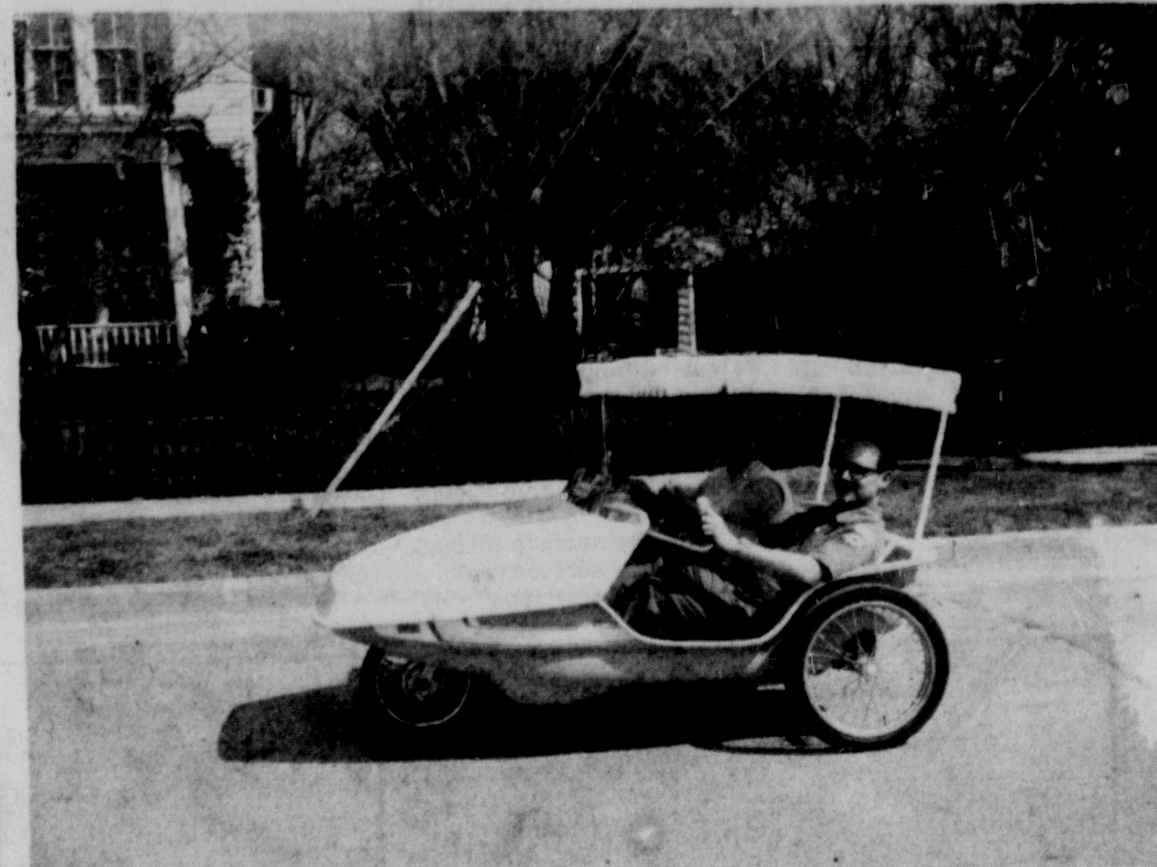

Students earning a 3.0 average are on the all "A" list. Those earning a 2.3 or better average are also placed on the Special Honor Roll.

The list included Kathryn D. Keith of 1906 N. Washington and Diane E. Lucko of Route 1, Box 322 in Cameron.

Plan Landscape For Value, Beauty

A properly landscaped yard can increase the beauty and value of a home.

"Several concepts should be kept in mind when planning a yard, such as family desires, simplicity, unity, textural contrasts and ultimate plant size," points out Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He suggests preparing a plan and drawing in the house, property lines and other permanent features. Then consult each family member and list his needs. Thus areas for outdoor living, gardening and other interests can be assigned to meet the needs of the entire family.

"Simplicity is variety without confusion. Use trees, shrubs, bricks and fences for specific needs to improve the over-all look and utility of the yard," advises the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Unity can be achieved with a proper balance of simplicity, contrast and scale. The temptation to add plants bought on sale or sent by friends is often less if the yard appears complete without them, believes Welch.

Contrasts with plants and structures can add interest. Try large-leaved plants like bananas or cannas to contrast with ferns, or use a fine-textured stucco wall around a yard with coarse-looking flagstone steps.

"Scale depends on the house structure and yard area. Large steps and trees can home but would dwarf a low-lying house and would destroy the intended design," concludes Welch.

MRS. DORIS HORNUNG

Bank Elects Mrs. Hornung Asst. Cashier

Mrs. Doris Hornung, long time employee of Citizens National Bank in Cameron, was elected Assistant Cashier at the bank's annual meeting of shareholders on Tuesday.

Mrs. Hornung has been with the bank for more than 15 years. She has received extensive training in several departments of the bank although secretarial duties are presently her principal responsibility.

During the shareholders meeting, Goodhue Smith, president, reported that 1973 was a banner year for the bank, with both deposits and earnings reaching an all-time high.

Shareholders were told that during the coming year it is anticipated by bank officials that total assets would reach $25,000,000. Such an occurrence, Smith said, would be the first for any bank in Milam County.

In other action taken at the meeting, John H. Davis, Don G. Humble, Smith, Niley Smith, Niley J. Smith and Oxshier Smith were re-elected as directors to serve during the coming year.

Power Use Increases Says BEPC

The use of electrical power in the service area of the Brazos System increased 7.1 per cent during 1973 despite the energy shortage, Ross Segrest, general manager said today.

Total sales of energy during the past year amounted to 1.3 billion kilowatt hours. The peak load during the summer was 303,500 kilowatts, up 12.4 percent from 1972.

Recent conservation efforts instituted by the cooperative cannot be accurately evaluated due to the mild winter being recorded throughout the service area. This mild weather plus any cut-back in consumption by the consumers will be favorably reflected in reduced electrical bills.

Brazos' membership in the Texas Municipal Power Pool has helped to keep increases in electric bills to a minimum.

IVY COVERED trellis shades the patio at the Dewey McElwraith home, 408 N. Central, and was a landscaping point noted by judges who awarded them the Fleur de lis Garden Club Yard of the Month for March. Extensive use of ivy as a border for shrubs and flower beds and along the sidewalk provides a summer green appearance even in winter months. Many of the shrubs and a magnolia tree were raised from seed by the McElwraiths.

Sewing, Home Repair In Series

By Chris Holcombe

Milam County homemakers are in the swing of things with several interesting meetings in the offering for Milam County consumers. The first thing on the calendar is the series on Clothing Consumer Knowledge. This series started last week and is a five part series on Clothing News. The program last week was on Spring and Summer 1974 Fashion Forecast, by Chris Holcombe.

The second program is scheduled for Thursday, March 14 at 2 p.m. at the New Salem Home Demonstration Club House in Fair Park in Rockdale. The program will be on new fabrics, new sewing equipment, and new construction tips and techniques. This program will be presented by Chris Holcombe, County Extension Agent.

The third program is scheduled for March 21 at 2 p.m., the fourth program is scheduled for March 27 at 2 p.m. and the fifth and final program is scheduled for April 4 at 2 p.m. These programs will all be held at the New Salem Home Demonstration Club House in Fair Park and the topics will be "Sew Manly," Vivian Pittman, County Extension Agent will present the programs and the topics are as follows: March 21 "Shirts and Sweaters for Men," March 27th, "Pants for Men," and April 4, "Jackets and Coats for Men." This series of programs are open to everyone in the county and are sponsored jointly by the Milam County Family Living Committee and the Milam County Extension Service. There is no charge for any part of this program. So come and bring a friend.

A Home Maintenance and Repair Shortcourse is just around the corner. Do you have that spring house repair and cleaning bug and can't find anyone to do those simple and small repairs around the house for you? Come to the Milam County Home Maintenance and Repair Shortcourse and learn to do those jobs yourself.

This is a three-part series of meetings that will be held in Cameron and Gause starting March 19.

Subjects covered will include hanging objects to sheetrock and other hollow wall materials, repairing holes in sheetrock, repairing windows and screens. Along with each of these lessons on repair will be a short reminder session on spring house cleaning ideas and using ecology type cleaning products that you can make yourself. These lessons will include cleaning walls, ceiling and woodwork, cleaning

BPW Club Meets

The Business and Professional Women's Club met for a business meeting Monday at the clubhouse, Fourth and Milam.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Hinton Pruett. Mrs. Ruby Mosley, president conducted the business session.

The 12 members present were served refreshments by Mrs. Mary Houston, hostess, and co-hostess Mrs. W. H. Lucas.

Mrs. Pierce Marks 95th Year

Mrs. Clint (Blanche) Pierce observed her 95th birthday Wednesday at Colonial Nursing Home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. Coley Turnham of Long Beach, California, and friends made during her 80 year residence in Milam County.

The day was filled with reminiscing about a loghouse home in Walkers Creek, early Cameron days and the community of Liberty where she made her home from 1916 until moving to the nursing home 9 years ago.

Social life at Liberty centered around the church and school "but we worked so hard in those days we were to tired for much social life," Mrs. Pierce recalled. Roads were little more than paths and the montly trip to Cameron by buggy took a full day.

The Pierce's held the elections at Hanover for more than 40 years. Mrs. Pierce recalls that elections were preceded by community picnics when local candidates would be heard. As soon as the voting ended the Pierce's would load the voting box in their mule-driven buggy and head for the courthouse at Cameron. "There was always a big crowd on the courthouse lawn and lots of excitement as each box came in. We would stay until all the boxes were in and get home about 2 a.m.," Mrs. Pierce said.

A star resident of the Colonial Nursing Home, Mrs. Pierce underwent major surgery in January, but it didn't slow her down. She is up early, visits neighbors and adds a cheerful note to the routine of the home.

95th BIRTHDAY - Mrs. Blanche Pierce observed her 95th birthday Wednesday at Colonial Nursing Home. Friends say her good humor and warmth are an inspiration for them.

ENGAGED - Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Swanzy announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gloria Joyce, to Kenneth Alan Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen F. Schneider of Howe, Texas. The wedding is planned for 3 p.m. May 18 at the First Baptist Church in Cameron.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moegelein of Waco announce the engagement of their daughter Mae to Mr. Carroll E. Warschak son of Mr. and Mrs. Walton J. Warschak of Burlington.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Harlandale High School, San Antonio and is drug manager of H.E.B. in Waco. Mr. Warschak graduated from Rosebud High School and Texas A&M University where he received a BS degree in agricultural economics. He is employed by the USDA Farmers Home Administration in Georgetown.

The couple will be married at 2 p.m. May 4 at St. Louis Catholic Church, Waco.

Personal Mention

Yoemen Split Doubleheader

The Cameron Yoemen opened strong Tuesday in the first game of the baseball doubleheader with Temple taking a 9-4 victory. The Wildcats won the second game, 13-6.

The Yoemen went to work early, scoring 2 runs in the 1st inning. John Barron's double brought in Gene Kopriva with the first run, and Jeff Smitherman's single scored Barron from third.

The Wildcats came back in the 2nd. with two home runs, one by Mikeska and one by Reiger.

The next two Yoe runs were scored on an overthrown ball to 2nd base by the pitcher, and then George Whiteside's 380 foot homer over center field with one man on base put the game out of reach.

Whiteside was the winning pitcher for the Yoemen after relieving Jeff Smitherman in the third inning, and Kent Greenway was the losing pitcher for Temple.

In the second game, Temple exploded in the top of the fourth, scoring 6 runs on only one hit. Yoe pitchers walked five batters, and two errors were made to open the game up for the Wildcats.

The score was then 6-2 in favor of Temple. Camerons runs came in the first inning as Ricky Sapp hit a home run over the right field fence.

The Yoemen rallied in the bottom of the 5th to score 4 runs, but the game was called at this time.

Cameron's next action will be in Cameron on Monday as they meet Killen in another doubleheader. Game time is again 3 and 5 p.m.

Yoe-Yoes Win Second Place

Seniors Compete In AAYBC Tourney

Five graduating seniors-Rosemary Eickenhorst, Jimmy Hunt, Tommy Braden, Mike Young, and Zim Morris participated in the Texas AAYBC Bowling Tournament at the Lakeaire Bowling Lanes in Waco Saturday, March 9.

The tournament open only to graduating seniors, had four classifications with the top three winners in each class qualifying to participate in the State Finals which will be held in San Antonio on March 30.

Texas is divided into 5 regions, and there will be 75 students competing in the finals. The competition will be based on a 100 point system - 50 points based on a bowling score and 50 on an academic test score.

Cameron will be represented by Zim Morris, who placed 3rd in the boys handicap division.

Winners in their respective classes in San Antonio will receive an expense paid trip to the National AAYBC Tournament. During this tournament, the students will compete for $28,000 in college scholarships. The tourney will be held in Denver, Colorado on July 6-7.

Good luck Zim - Cameron is backing you!

39th Yoe Relays To Be Held Saturday

The 39th running of the Cameron Yoe Relays will be held Saturday, March 16 at Yoe Field. Preliminaries in the field events will begin at 10:00 a.m. and preliminaries in the running events are scheduled to get underway at 11:00 a.m. Finals will start at 5:00 p.m.

This year the Relays will play host to 14 teams - Hearne, Brenham, Taylor, Rockdale, Caldwell, Westlake (Austin), La Vega (Waco), Reicher (Waco), Marlin, Thorndale, Centerville, Belville, Temple JV, and Killen JV.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner of the meet, the high point man, and the winners of the 440 relay and mile relay. Individual medals will be given to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place finishers in the remaining events.

This years meet will also include the first Yoe Master Mile for men or women 35 years of age or older. To win the event the contestant must run his or her mile closer to the time predicted than any other contestant. Winners of 1st, 2nd and 3rd place will be awarded plaques.

Between the prelims and finals, the Yoe Booster Club will treat all coaches and workers to a meal of barbecue chicken.

Last year the relays were won by Elgin and the high point man, Baker, was also from Elgin. In last years meet, seven records were broken, and at least three of these seven could possibly be broken this year.

The seven records that were broken last year are as follows:

880 - Brannon of A&M Consolidated 2:00.0
440 - Price of Elgin 49.8
330 Intermediates - Baker of Elgin 39.3
Mile Relay - Elgin 3:26.9

Eagles First In Centex Relays

ROGERS

The Rogers Eagles placed two girls and one boy on the District 28-A all district basketball team. The girls picked were Barbara Sulack and Paula Mathis, and Mark Sebek was selected to the boys team. Other first team picks included Connie Caffey of Thorndale.

Scott Is Prep All-America

TRAVIS

Kevin Scott of Rosebud-Lott has been named to the Prep-All-America Football program for 1974. His selection to the squad makes him eligible for the Prep All-America National Awards - Prep 100 squad, Super Eleven and Cum Laude. Finalist will be announced in the March issue of the Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Eagles On All-District

ROGERS

The Rogers Eagles captured first place in the Centex Relays at Rocket Field Saturday. The Eagles scored 96 points, and only picked up two first places. First places went to the Eagle 440 relay with a 44.6,2, and to Glenn Smith for his 10.4 100 yard dash. The Rogers girls picked up 82 1/2 points to get third place.

Cougars Fall By 4-2 Score

HEARNE

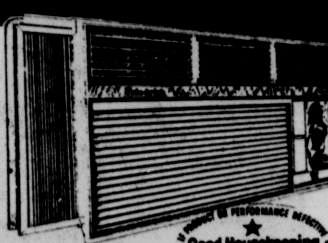

The Hearne Eagles pounced on Rosebud Lott with a 4-2 baseball victory Monday at Eagle Field. Six errors proved to be fatal for the Cougars as the alert Eagle team took advantage of their opportunities. Both teams will see their next action Friday as they compete in the Hearne tournament.

86¢ AN ACRE

You want to save money when you buy an early-season insecticide. But not at the expense of losing control. You don't buy any bargain when you save a few cents an acre on chemical costs, only to find out the rate won't do the job because it doesn't fit the way you plant.

Before you start planting, compare the plain, hard facts about insecticide cost and effectiveness.

DI-SYSTON SAVES TIME

Apply early-season insect protection as you plant.

DI-SYSTON SAVES LABOR

Eliminates early-season sprays.

frees labor for other important planting chores.

DI-SYSTON SAVES STANDS

Controls thrips, aphids that weaken seedlings, set them up for disease and adverse weather.

DI-SYSTON SAVES COTTON

Protected seedlings grow off fast; get fast, early growth that sets heavy bottom crop ahead of mid-season insects.

DI-SYSTON SAVES BENEFICIALS

Protection goes underground; can't wipe out good bug populations that help control bollworm flareups later on.

Best of all...DI-SYSTON saves money without cutting effective rates for the way you plant.

OUR NEW MEAT LABELS TELL YOU WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW

Our new meat identification program takes the guesswork out of selecting meat and how to prepare it... helps you be a "smarter" meat shopper and a better cook. Our improved meat label tells you at a glance the type of meat (Beef, Pork, Lamb or Veal), where it comes from, and the specific portion or common retail name.

SUCCULENT SHRIMP!

One of today's most popular seafoods is shrimp... a small shellfish in a segmented, crusty shell found off the American coast from Maine to Alaska. Scampi and prawn are other shellfish similar to shrimp.

Shrimp are excellent sources of high quality protein, iodine, calcium and iron, and they are very low in fat. You can choose fresh, frozen or canned shrimp. "Green shrimp" is a term used to describe uncooked shrimp. "Cleaned" means they have been deveined.

Shrimp is graded according to size. "Jumbo" shrimp are fewer than 25 shrimp to a pound. "Large" shrimp are 25-30 shrimp per pound. "Medium" are 30-42 shrimp per pound; and "small" are more than 42 shrimp per pound. The larger the shrimp, the higher the cost. Two or 2 1/2 pounds of shrimp in the shell will give a pound of cooked shelled shrimp.

Never overcook shrimp or other seafood. Simmering is the basic cooking method. Use only enough water to cover the shrimp. Bring the water to a boil, add the shrimp and reduce the heat. Simmer for 3-5 minutes, depending on the size. Remove from the heat as soon as the shrimp start to curl up; drain thoroughly.

Cooked, shelled and deveined shrimp can be used in many special casserole dishes which are baked or broiled. For fried shrimp, deep fat frying is recommended because pan frying overcooks the shrimp before they brown.

For a delightful change-of-pace dinner selection, use shrimp.
